EXTENSION OF DRAFT AGE WILL HELP END WAR

Is Essential to Provide
Men to Bring It to a Quick Conclusion

SECRETARY BAKER MEETS WITH SENATE MILITARY COM.

Urges Enactment of Man
Power Bill as Soon as Possible

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 9.—The enlarged war program was explained to the senate military committee behind closed doors today by Sec. Baker, in urging enactment as soon as possible of the administration's man power bill, extending draft ages so as to include all men between 18 and 45 years. He said the extension was essential to provide the men needed to bring the war to a quick conclusion.

After completing his statement before the full committee, Secretary Baker was questioned by the subcommittee investigating the airplane situation.

In a brief statement to newspaper men before entering the committee room, the secretary said the order issued yesterday suspending all army and navy enlistments until definite action is taken on the man power bill does not apply to any person who had taken steps prior to the issuance of the order to enlist or to enter a military training camp.

Mr. Baker was the final witness to appear in connection with the bill and Senator Chamberlain hopes to have the committee take up consideration of the measure without delay.

Prompt enactment of the draft extension bill so that Sept. 5 may be fixed as registration day, as suggested by Provost Marshal General Crowder, was urged by Secretary Baker. Without the extension, he told the committee, it would be necessary to invade the deferred classes.

Orders issued by Secretaries Baker and Daniels suspending voluntary enlistments in the army, navy and marine corps pending disposal by congress of the draft extension man power bill extending the selective service system to all men between the ages of 18 and 45 years became effective today. The orders were issued late yesterday by the two secretaries after President Wilson had held a conference with them.

Civilians are not permitted to enter officers training camps by the same orders, which were issued, it is believed, to prevent large number of application for enlistment from men to be affected by the extension of draft ages and the consequent disruption of the industrial system of the nation. Secretary Daniels in explaining his order said that the large increase in enlistments in the navy and marine corps has made it possible to suspend further enlistments.

Secretary Daniels discussed with correspondents the order stopping enlistments. With 100,000 now at recruiting stations and training camps and another 25,000 at home waiting call, he said, the navy has an abundance of material. Men enrolled up to yesterday will be accepted and explained and these with the 25,000 waiting at home will be called to the service when there is room for them at the training camps and stations.

All recruiting stations may not be closed. Fr. Daniels added, but their number very probably will be greatly reduced and most of the men sent back to active duty.

Since the man power bill has been proposed to congress there has been a heavy rush to naval and marine corps recruiting stations of men who did not wish to be drafted. It may be that it is understood men and families and with large and important business interests have sought to enlist on the theory that eventually they would be drafted into the army.

MAJ. GEN. HALE OBJECTS TO DOGS AT CAMP SHERMAN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Aug. 9.—Major General Harry C. Hale, Camp Sherman commandant, yesterday took exception to the number of dogs in camp. The general remarked to other officers at a conference that hereafter no new dogs were to be allowed within the confines of the camp.

Officers of the intelligence division say this action was taken to prevent soldiers on hikes from picking up stray canines and adopting them as pets. Already there is nearly two score of dogs and goats in camp.

Charles B. Juby of Weston, O., chairman of the grand trustees of the I. O. O. F. wired Captain J. C. Neils of the Community House yesterday that the Odd Fellows had decided to build a home in the community group. The I. O. O. F. home is to be erected immediately behind the Mesquite home. It will cost in the neighborhood of $20,000. Work will be started within the next week, the telegram stated.

ARMY CASUALTIES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 9.—Names of 303 officers and men missing in action were contained in five army lists aggregating 468 names made public today by the war department. A Marine corps casualty list brought the total to 520.

Nearly one half of the army men named were from Pennsylvania. There were 222 from that state with some 74 from Philadelphia alone.

The number of missing in action was the largest announced in any single day since casualties from the fighting on the Marne-Aisne front began arriving last Monday. There were four officers, a captain and three lieutenants and a large number of non-commissioned officers on the list.

A recapitulation of the six lists shows:

	Army Marine
Killed in action.....	90
Died of wounds.....	9
Died of disease.....	2
Died of accident.....	1
Missing in action.....	303
Wounded severely.....	20
Wounded degree unde- termined.....	41

GREAT LOSSES SUFFERED BY GERMANS IN MARNE POCKET

Hun Soldiers Ordered to Destroy All Property
In Retreat

(Associated Press Telegram)
With the American Army on the Vesle, Thursday, Aug. 8.—In their offensive since July 18, the allies have regained approximately 1500 square kilometers. More than 200 villages and towns, including Soissons, Chateau-Thierry and Fismes, are again in the hands of the allies. The front has been shortened by 53 kilometers (about 33 miles).

According to information contained in documents in possession of the French and Americans, the Germans in the rear guard fighting during the retreat used four more divisions than they had contemplated using to break the French line when the German offensive began. The enemy plans called for 13 divisions to shatter the French and to cross the Marne between Dormans and Chateau-Thierry.

Information gathered by the allies is to the effect that in falling back the Germans brought into action at least 17 divisions before reaching the Vesle. Additional reinforcements have been brought up since the Vesle was crossed. A division which was resting in Flanders is known to have reached the region north of Fismes, Tuesday.

An idea of the heavy losses suffered by the Germans in the fighting in the Marne pocket is given by German documents in possession of French and American officers, having been taken from German officers and men and obtained in various other ways since the allied offensive began on July 18.

One regiment lost one-third of its effectives in one day. Other units were reduced by one-half in the fighting up to July 29.

The 15th division, a crack unit, was ordered into battle to stop the pressure of the French in the valley of the Aisne. It was a regiment of this division which lost one-third of its members on July 22. The next day the commander of the 10th company reported that he had been conducted to 35 men. The commander of the 12th company declared no one was left in the 7th company. In other battalions of the regiment similar conditions were reported. Prisoners say the 39th regiment lost from 60 to 75 per cent of its effectiveness in three days.

On July 24, the 82nd regiment was compelled to form three companies of its three battalions put back into the line. Before engaging in the battle the companies of another division consisted of 80 men each, many being 19-year-old boys. As a result of losses the division was reduced by one-half to July 29. In the region of Feren-Tardenois one regiment of the 22nd division was reduced to three companies.

The number of effectives in the average German company is now about 90 men, exclusive of officers and supplementary non-commissioned officers.

Information that the German soldiers had been ordered to destroy all property possible, particularly chalets and houses of good appearance during the retreat from the Marne, is in possession of the French and Americans. It came from several detailed accounts being furnished by a deserter from the 4th Prussian guard division.

The deserter said that sappers had been ordered by General Finck von Finckenstein to destroy everything within their power. Similar orders also were issued by lieutenants to bombers.

Prisoners say that the order for the retreat from the Marne was joyously received by most of the German troops, especially the Saxons, who expressed the hope that this last German failure to reach Paris would hasten the coming of peace.

Prisoners taken from different divisions on various parts of the front agree that it is the German plan to retire from the Aisne.

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Aug. 9.—Liberty 3½ per cent bonds sold at 100.92 on the Stock Exchange today, the rise above par probably being influenced by the favorable war news. This is the highest price paid this year for this issue, the lowest having been 97.20. In 1917 the 3½s brought 100.30 just before their actual issue, when temporary certificates were traded. The lowest selling price last year was 98.08.

The Liberty 3½s have shown unusual strength throughout the last few weeks, several times touching par. It is assumed these bonds are being accumulated by wealthy individuals and institutions because of their tax exemption character.

WEATHER REPORT SAYS HEAT SPELL HAS BEEN BROKEN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Cleveland, Aug. 9.—The intense heat which for several days held Cleveland in its grasp gave way today to cool, refreshing breezes and Weather Forester Emery announced the hot wave had been broken.

He predicted a temperature of from seventy to eighty degrees for today. A very heavy rain last night brought the thermometer in the clock on the public square down to 72 degrees at 10 o'clock last night, the lowest temperature for the week at that hour.

The death of 18 more babies from sunstroke and other illness caused by the heat brought the infant death toll to seventy-five for the week.

SPAIN ADDRESSES NOTE TO GERMANY ON SUB WARFARE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Madrid, Thursday, Aug. 8.—Spain has addressed a new note to Germany concerning the torpedoing of Spanish ships. Foreign Minister Dato made this announcement late today, after a cabinet had held an extraordinary session.

Despite the repeated Spanish protests, Spanish vessels have continued to fall victims to German submarines. A dispatch received in Paris on July 30, said the Spanish newspapers asserted that the torpedoing of the Spanish steamship, Ramon de Larinaga, was the gravest incident that had yet occurred between Germany and Spain. Eight Spaniards perished in the disaster, and the oil which the ship carried was almost half the supply assured to Spain under the Spanish-American agreement.

It was reported from Athens on July 17 that a Spanish steamship carrying the Spanish minister to Greece had been torpedoed by a German submarine. The ship flew the minister's flag. The diplomat and his family were rescued.

Division of opinion in Spain over the attitude toward Germany caused a serious cabinet crisis in March, which was settled after several days by the formation of a coalition cabinet which is now in office.

HUNS IN FULL RETREAT SOUTH OF THE SOMME ARE BEING PURSUED BY ALLIED CAVALRY- MEN, GERMANS IN FLIGHT LEAVING STORES OF AMMUNITION

ALLIED PROGRESS CONTINUES AND A GAIN OF ELEVEN MILES HAS BEEN MADE ALONG FRONT

Believe That It Will Be Impossible for Germans to Hold Montdidier Positions and That Advance on the Picardy Front Makes Aime Secure Against an Enemy Attack and That it Also Has Removed the Threat Against Paris—British Only a Mile from the Chaumes-Roye Railway, Which Forms Chief Artery of Supplies for German Troops in Montdidier Sector.

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, August 9.—More than 17,000 prisoners had been captured by the allies in the Somme drive up to noon today, according to advices this afternoon. More than 200 guns also have been taken.

It is reported that a German divisional general has been captured in the drive.

GERMANS EVACUATING POSITIONS

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, Aug. 9.—Seventeen thousand prisoners and guns too numerous to mention, have been taken in the British drive on the front south of the Somme, says today's war office report. The cavalry is still pursuing the enemy.

The allied progress is continuing. The French have taken Fresnoy-en-Chaussée, while the British have reached a point east of Lequesnel and Caix.

The Germans are evacuating their positions in the Lys valley on the Flanders front.

On the Lys front the British now hold Locon, Lecornet, Malo, Quentin, Le Petit Pécant and Le Sart.

Above the Lys region on the front north of Kemmel, the British, carried out a local operation last night in which their line was advanced on a front of more than 1,000 yards.

The Germans put in a vigorous resistance north of the Somme, the statement shows and there was heavy fighting between Chipilly and Morlaucourt.

ADVANCE OF 11 MILES MADE

(Associated Press Telegram)
London, August 9.—The Franco-British advance on the battle front south of the Somme has reached a maximum depth of eleven miles, according to news reaching here shortly after noon today.

British cavalry, armored cars and tanks in advance of the infantry have reached within a mile of the Chaumes railway junction.

It will be impossible for the Germans to hold their Montdidier positions, it is believed here. It is also believed that the advance on the Picardy front makes Amiens secure against an enemy attack and has removed the threat against Paris.

The British have captured Morlaucourt on the northern end of the Somme battle front and the infantry line now runs from that point southward to a point southeast of Morcuil. This represents an infantry advance to the maximum depth of seven miles in the center along the Amiens-Chaumes-La Fere railway.

Canadian horse troopers, co-operating with French cavalry, cut off a large force of the enemy in today's operations on the Somme front.

GERMAN LINES BADLY BROKEN

(Compiled from A. P. Dispatches)
German lines on the Picardy front, south of the Somme, have been badly broken by the savage thrusts of the British and French armies.

A wedge has been driven into enemy territory to a depth of 11 miles along the Amiens-Chaumes-La Fere railway and early today the British were only a mile away from the Chaumes-Roye railway, which runs southward from Chaumes and forms the chief artery of supplies for the German troops fighting in the Montdidier sector of the front.

London announces that 17,000 prisoners and guns "too numerous to mention," have been taken in the first 24 hours of the drive.

The results of this attack, loosed against the Germans on the Amiens front, Thursday morning, appears to have eclipsed those obtained by the Germans on the first day of any of their terrific offensives of the past spring and summer. So far as reports show the progress of the fighting, south of the Somme, the allies are going forward almost without serious opposition. On the north bank of the stream, the Germans have held their lines strongly, but have lost Morlaucourt, their stronghold there, after hard fighting.

The French, further to the south, have had their advance retarded at numerous points, but the towns officially reported to have been reached are evidence that the momentum of the allied drive has not nearly spent itself.

In its larger aspect the success of the allies, south of the Somme, constitutes a very serious threat to the German line, especially to the southward. The advance has not so far weakened the German positions northward toward Arras, but the enemy finds himself in an embarrassing position around Montdidier and from that town southeastward at least as far as the Oise river. A further advance of the allies in Picardy would outflank the whole German line as far as the Oise and probably cause an immediate retirement.

FOUR MILE ADVANCE MADE BY THE FRENCH.

(Associated Press Telegram)
On the French Front in France, Aug. 9.—(Havas). French troops on a front of six miles northwest of Montdidier have advanced to a depth of four miles and captured nearly 3,000 prisoners. Important material also was captured. The advance was carried out with extremely light losses.

The French front runs from the Aisne north to a point just south of the Amiens-Roye road where it joins up with the British.

The attention of the Germans was fixed on the Vesle attack when the new offensive was opened. There (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4.)

WOMAN SAVED MUCH SUFFERING

By taking Friend's Advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

West Plains, Mo.—"I was all run down in health, had indigestion and terrible cramps every month so I was unable to do anything. I had tried every doctor in West Plains, also every remedy I could think of, without relief. One day when I was suffering greatly a friend was at my house and said, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?' So I did, and through it I found relief from my suffering and I really believe I have saved my life. It does not seem as though I can say enough in praise of this wonderful medicine for the health it has brought me."—Miss CORA LEE HALL, West Plains, Mo.

Perhaps it may seem an extravagant statement to say that this great remedy saved a life; but women like Mrs. Hall, to whom it has brought health, appreciate the danger and suffering they have escaped too well to doubt it! All who suffer should try it. Why risk life and health without it?

FOUR YOUNG WOMEN OF LICKING COUNTY HAVE ANSWERED COUNTRY'S CALL AND HAVE ENROLLED IN THE STUDENT NURSE RESERVE

American nurses are helping to maintain the high standards of nursing care in the overseas hospitals and their mothers may be as proud of them as of the sons they have given. President Wilson has said this: "This is no war for amateurs, which is especially true of nursing. Canada, Australia and New Zealand have sent to their troops only trained nurses and have kept this up for nearly four years. England and France faced suddenly with large numbers of wounded had to meet the emergency with partially trained workers. Our government is calling for 25,000 young women to join the United States student nurse reserve. The places of our Red Cross nurses called overseas must be filled to form our second line of defense.

Ohio's quota is 2,230. Licking county's quota is 28. This special drive, closing August 12, is being made jointly by the Red Cross nurse of the council of defense. The following young women of Licking county have enrolled to date:

Miss Martha Sachs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sachs, 267 Hudson avenue. Miss Sachs attended

Newark high school and has traveled extensively. She is a sister of John Sachs.

Miss Louise Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Smith, 262 Hudson avenue, graduate of the Newark high school class of '16. Miss Smith had chosen music as her accomplishment, and attended Cincinnati Conservatory.

Miss Lottie Marie Lendon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. P. Lendon, of St. Clairsville, O., who has been in the employ of the John J. Carroll store, coat and suit department, for the past eight years. Miss Lendon's brother is in training at Camp Sherman with the 334th Infantry.

Miss Dena Kinney, daughter of C. W. Kinney, a grocer at Union Station. Miss Kinney is a valued employee of the Callender dry-cleaning establishment where she has been for the past two years.

There are now but four days left of this drive. May we not hear from other sections of the county? Literature and enrollment cards may be secured from Mrs. E. T. Johnson, 402 Hudson avenue, and from the Red Cross headquarters, 64 Hudson avenue.

RAN CAR INTO A TREE RATHER THAN HIT A YOUNGSTER

In order to avoid striking a little boy who darted in front of the Ford runabout she was driving, Mrs. Harvey Sheppard, wife of the groceryman, ran into a tree on North Fourth street this morning.

Freddie Kline, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Kline, North Fourth street, started across the street directly in front of the machine, and Mrs. Sheppard had either to strike the child or a tree. She chose the latter, and the front of her machine was badly smashed, the wheel torn off and the tree knocked down. The child escaped unhurt as did Mrs. Sheppard, who, however, is suffering from the shock of the accident.

SOCIAL EVENTS

Miss Sara Beaumont entertained with a charming party at her home, East Church street, honoring Miss Helen Carroll of Parkersburg, W. Va., who is visiting her aunt, Mrs. William Hulshizer. Games were played during the afternoon, and luncheon was served the following:

GRANVILLE

(Special to the Advocate)
Granville, Aug. 8.—The following men from Granville were sent to Columbus barracks for general military service: Archie D. Piper, James Calvin Hargrave, J. O. Chubb, Ralph Smoot, Chas. W. Belt, Earl E. Cheshire. On August 15, Chas. W. Belt and Clark McCrary will go to Cincinnati for training as auto mechanics. Monday and Tuesday Dr. Thompson and Dr. Lovelace examined the last eight men of the 12th call. On June 3, 1918, 218 men registered. One hundred and twenty-three have been placed in Class 1 and have been found physically qualified for military service.

Today the important numbers of the Assembly program will be a lecture by Dr. Robertson, "Worry and World," 8:15, and the lecture "The American Spirit and the World War," by Dr. Polvi Harlan at 8 o'clock.

Every day is looking to the fullest the continued rain and cool weather, now that all the outdoor numbers have been given—the pageants, the Vacation Bible school commencement, the athletic stunts, the "picnics"—which depended on clear skies for their success.

Miss Clark of "The Home," has returned from an extended trip to points on the Atlantic Coast.

Mrs. Frank Hall of Newark attended the commencement of the Bible school. Mrs. George Finney, nee Olga Dickinson, and little daughter of Lewiston, Maine, is visiting friends here.

A. M. Davidson, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Norris of West Maple street, has returned to her home in Washington D. C.

Mrs. Hugh Campbell of Mt. Vernon is attending the Assembly.

Mrs. Josephine Fisher of Delaware, O., is visiting friends and attending the Assembly.

Mrs. Kenneth Hall, whose little daughter Frances has been a part of the Vacation Bible school, attended the Commencement.

Mrs. Josephine Barrow and Miss Cornelia Howell are attending a house party at Franklin, O., the guests of the Misses Eldridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis N. Flory of Centerville received a belated letter from their son, Sergeant Eugene Flory from "over there."

The following announcement has been received: Rev. and Mrs. George A. Beers announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Catherine to George Gerstman, Jan. Sunday, July 11, 1919, Dunkirk, N. Y.

Lieut. Chas. H. Haskins of Peppersburg, Pa., is in Granville this week visiting his parents and sister. He has been an instructor at Peppersburg field for some months and is on his way to France.

The military department at Denison is coming soon promises to send military drill to our students. All boys under draft age desiring to enlist would do well to consult the president, C. W. Chubb, at the Denison Hotel.

Prof. Livingston, who is at Ft. Sheridan for another season of intensive training, has a list of the men received in the Illinois camp. It is: Leslie, Walter, Cull, G. G. Spencer, E. K. Smith, H. G. G. B. Tribble, E. P. King, C. E. King, C. E. King, C. E. King.

Professor Livingston writes that he is in the machine gun factory and that two of the instructors are in the same company. They will be ordered to assist Prof. Livingston next fall.

UNION STATION

Dr. Larimore and family of Philadelphia are visiting K. E. Foster and family of this community.

Miss Vivian Fox spent the latter part of last week visiting friends in Newark.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Denzil Lee attended the Pomona Grange at Central City last Saturday. Stanley Geroges and family were Newark callers Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vanostrand of Mt. Vernon called on Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Weeks Sunday.

The farmers of this vicinity have been busy this week delivering wheat at Union Station.

The condition of Mrs. Fred of Union Station is not improved and an operation is probable.

THE SICK

Miss Mildred Woodward was removed from the City Hospital to her home, 185 W. Church street, in Bazler's ambulance this morning.

Miss Juanita Jones was taken from the City Hospital to her home in Granville, in Bazler's ambulance yesterday afternoon.

GEE, IT'S TOUGH TO BE A FAT MAN

San Francisco, Aug. 9.—A pound of flesh a day for 15 days will be the sacrifice made to his country by Jack Charles Read, of this city.

Read attempted to enlist in the United States marines here, but was told that he was 15 pounds overweight. He immediately declared that he would remove the 15 pounds of fatty substance within 15 days by taking a special course in dieting and exercises.

"Shylock didn't have a thing on the marines," declared Read. "He only wanted one pound of flesh—these fellows want 15. Gee, it's tough to be a fat man."

DEATH BY ACCIDENT TO BRITISH OFFICER AT CAMP SHERMAN

Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Aug. 9.—Captain Becker of the British army, who has been assigned here as an instructor to the 84th division, was almost instantly killed early today when the automobile in which he was riding went over an embankment near the Stony Creek artillery range. Four American officers in the automobile escaped without injury.

Captain Becker was the last male member of his family, all of the other men having been killed in the war. His family was especially pleased that he was assigned to an army camp in the United States, thousands of miles away from the war zone.

The military funeral probably will be held at Camp Sherman for the British captain.

TO MOBILIZE MEDICAL PROFESSORS FOR WAR-WORK

(Associated Press Telegram)
Columbus, Aug. 9.—Dr. C. F. Clark, chairman of the executive committee, volunteer medical service corps, has issued a call for a meeting of all physicians of the sixth council or district to meet in Canton, next Tuesday, August 13, to consider the most effective means of mobilizing the entire medical profession for war-work. The counties included in the sixth district are: Ashland, Holmes, Mahoning, Portage, Richland, Stark, Summit and Wayne.

GERBER REPORTS AT CAMP SHERMAN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, O., Aug. 9.—Walter Gerber, former shortstop of the Columbus American Association baseball team and more recently shortstop for the St. Louis Browns, reported at Camp Sherman, Chillicothe, today with a local draft contingent.

Gerber is one of the three St. Louis players to be called into service through the work or fight order putting professional ball players in a list of non-essential occupations.

MILLS SHUT DOWN

(Associated Press Telegram)
Toledo, O., Aug. 9.—The plant of the National Milling company has shut down and two other Toledo mills soon may be obliged to stop grinding because of the food administration's reduction of flour exports. The National plant is the largest winter wheat mill in the United States. It has a daily capacity of 4,000 barrels.

GREAT PACERS TO TRY CONCLUSIONS AT INDIANA FAIR

Indianapolis, Aug. 9.—Arrangements have been completed here between the Indiana state court of agriculture and the owners of William, 1:58 1/2, and Single G, 1:59 1/2, for a match race between the two sensational pacers, which takes place the first week in September. The race will be for three heats, the horse starting best in the summary to get 60 per cent of the purse of $2,000 and the loser 10 per cent.

William and Single G have met twice this season, Single G winning at Toledo, while William won over the Cambridge City wiggler in their championship last week. William paced in 1:58 1/2, over a slow track at Columbus and Billy Marvin, the man who developed that buy that stallion, who will beat his record before the season is over.

Single G was only beaten a neck in 1:58 by Miss G. Harris at Toledo, and then went on and won the next two heats in 1:59 1/2 and 1:59 3/4. The pair are very evenly matched and their race here should be a great one.

GETAWAY DAY ON RANDALL TRACK.

Cleveland, Aug. 9.—The free-for-all pace, feature on the getaway card of the second Grand Circuit meeting here today will bring together Single G, Miss Harris, M. Williams, Russell Boy and Ben Earl. Unless more rain intervenes the track will be fast and horsemen predict a new record will be established.

Of the five starters it is probable William, who is believed to have recovered from his injury, will be the favorite, while rule favorite, Single G and Miss Harris, M. Williams, who set world records in Toledo, will also be strongly supported.

A pace for the 2:08 class, and two events for 2:11 and 2:22 trotters complete the four race program.

NEWARK SONG WRITER MAKES A GREAT HIT.

"Freedom For All—Forever," the motto of the U. S. A. and music written by one of our own citizens, Mrs. W. M. Jones, is one of the biggest hits of the season in New York and is classed as one of the best war songs yet produced.

Several of the larger publishing companies have made offers to buy the song outright or give a good royalty on sales. It receives great applause nightly at Revere, Pekin, Churches and the New York popular amusement houses and will be featured by several of the best musical companies on the road the coming season.

Mrs. Jones, who expects to return shortly, feels greatly elated over the fact she was able to put it over the top when there were hundreds of other songs offered on the market.

RUNAWAY BOYS ARE RETURNED TO INSTITUTION

On Tuesday, William Lazelle, 17, and Marion Haines, 12, ran away from the Franklin County Children's home. They were brought to New York by Mr. J. J. Boney, who said the boys had jumped at his home near Outville, and that they said they lived near Hudson. They were questioned by Chief Sheriff who found they belonged in Columbus and they were turned over to Franklin County Officer James Hoyer. A representative of the Franklin County home came for them today and they were returned to the home.

Associated Press Telegram.

New York, Aug. 9.—Stocks were firm at the opening of today's trading but immediately developed pronounced strength under the influence of the encouraging reports from the steel industry. A point to 111, its highest price in some weeks and similar gains were registered by Canadian Pacific, Mexican Petroleum, American Can and United Cigars. Further gains were shown on increased activity before the end of the first half hour. Liberty bonds sold above par, one lot of $100,000 changing hands at 100.02.

Trading during the morning was quiet, but some activity was shown at any time in the last fortnight. Investment funds participated at gains of 1 to 2 points on reports of recovery with the government. U. S. Steel held undisputed sway however, extending its gain to 1 1/2 points.

TALK WITH BAIRD "THERE'S A REASON"

Roy J. Baird

59 WEST MAIN ST.

LICKING COUNTY SOLDIERS' LETTERS

Editor of the Advocate:—Just a few lines letting you know I am in France and have been for about two months and am enjoying life, but I think I will have quite a time learning to talk as this talk is about as hard to make out as a Chinese puzzle. I have not as yet run across many Newark boys and it seems quite a jumble without them, although we have the honor of having the best singing outfit in the U. S. army—so that kind of gets us a glad hand wherever we go. Changing the subject a bit there is a fellow here named Lafferty who would like for Edward Ewald to write to him as he said he and Ewald played vaudeville together. His address is Supply Co., 59th Inf., A. E. F. via New York.

Well, I must close as it is time to hit the hay. Wishing all the Newark folks the best of luck, I remain, yours truly,

Corp. Spiggle,
Co. H, 59th U. S. I., A. E. F.
France via New York.

Editor of the Advocate: In acknowledging the receipt of the "Service Medal" from the good people back home, today, I want to say that it was with a great deal of pride that I passed it down the line at mess that the boys might know not only fellow left "Old Licking County," but what he knew at all times the hearts of those he left behind were always with him and also what a grand manner they had in expressing it. Thanking you for the medal I wish to promise those who are keeping the "home fires burning" that Uncle Sam's boys, who certainly mean business, are going to make the folks at home feel more than proud of them when the big work is completed. Yours for more war savings stamp sales, Carl J. Ankele, ordnance Corps, Columbus Barracks, Columbus, O.

A Letter from France.
Editor of the Advocate: Received medal a few days ago, and want to thank you and the people of Licking County for the interest shown. Will wear same with my identification tags for a lucky piece.

As you are probably aware I am somewhere in France. But the censor forbids any news of a military nature to be sent so presume this letter shall be some monotonous. Anyway here goes. You remember our old faithful friend John Pieri (the ice man). He is stationed about eight kilometers from this company. He sure is looking fine. In fact we all look that way. Presume the French climate (similar to Ohio) and the French wine has benefited most of us. The majority of French people use water for washing only. One can buy one quart of good wine for two francs (forty cents). But my advice to any one coming over is to learn French. Either that or they must be an artist in drawing pictures of their wants. Had a big celebration here on the Fourth. Boxing, wrestling and races of all kinds all day. Seventy some dollars given away as prizes. July 14 is French independence day and of course that means another holiday. Speaking of holidays, we sure need them. The army in France is some busy sector to be in. Don't have much time to pick any daisies. It's all work. But when one has good cats (Monkey meat) and good clean billets to sleep in (oh you know sheds and barns) he is in fit condition for most anything. The French people are very congenial and all say they are glad the Sammies came over. We all say we shall be glad to go back. Give me the dear old states any time. Well, I must close sending my regards to all and again thanking you and the residents of Licking County. I am yours respectfully, Bert Henley, Pvt. Co. I, 331st Reg. N. A., A. P. O. 762, American Expeditionary Forces via New York.

Cincinnati, Ohio, Aug. 1918.
Editor Advocate: I wish to thank the Newark Advocate and the people of Licking County for the beautiful service medal which I received O. K. I have shown the medal to all the boys of my platoon and they all admire it immensely.

I like the army life fine that is all I can say now. We have been under quarantine the last three weeks during our inoculations and vaccination, were allowed out the first time Sunday. During the three weeks the Y. M. C. A. arranged a vaudeville show every Tuesday and Thursday evenings which was held on the roof garden of the O. M. I. which helped to keep us from getting home sick. The only thing we hated was climbing these eight flights of stairs after walking up and down them four times a day. There are 210 men quarantined on the eighth floor and about the same number on the ninth floor of the Central Y. M. C. A. in Co. A. At the O. M. I., which is three blocks from the Y. are about the same amount of men and they are Co. B.

Every morning we march to the O. M. I. where we get our Mechanical Training. This institution is complete in itself, you can take any branch of work you want to; there is an electrical, machine, auto, tin shop; they are too numerous to mention it is so complete. At present I am stationed in the sheet metal shop. I have seven men under me. I am what they call a Straw Boss or Corporal. We make tin cups, pitchers, work needed in the other shops and our principle work is making airplane parts. The work is very interesting and I like it as it is altogether different from what I had been doing at home.

Harry Factor one of the four is raising a kick because he hasn't received a medal. His address is the same as mine and Westlake's he is in the same company and he told me to mention it in my letter.

We have three hours military drilling each day except Saturday and Sunday. We are to get the same drilling in the eight weeks we are to be here that they get at camp in four months, so it is learn and learn quick. We have about all the formations mastered and now it is drill to get them down pat.

Wishing to thank you and the Licking County people again, I remain, Private Chester N. Bailey, Training Detachment "Co. A," Ohio Mechanics Institute, Cincinnati, care Y. M. C. A.

George Coyle's Letter.
George A. Coyle writes to his Uncle Marion Bounds, R. F. D. No. 4, as follows from Somewhere in France, July 10:

I will answer your most welcome letter which I received today, your letter was the first I have received since I have been over here. I am glad to hear you are all well. I feel fine myself and am having a fine time. We had a fine trip across the sea and I did not get a bit sick on the way over. Did not see a Sub all the way and no one shed any tears over it either.

We have been on the move ever since we hit this side, have not stayed in one place very long. But I think I will be here at Camp Coelquidan where I am now for awhile. I am going to school here studying telephone and telephone line. I think the course lasts about six weeks. There is nine of us up here from our battery, some go to other classes. The rest of the battery is back in a little town and are billeted with the people. I was only with them a few days and then was sent up here. I like it fine here too. We have five barracks to sleep in and a picture show, Y. M. C. A. and lots of other places to go in the evening. This is an American Artillery Training Camp and the rest of the battery is to come up here later on. The camp is near Rennes which is quite a large place they say. I have never been over there. Your letter was mailed on the 12th of June and just got here, that is pretty good I think from the way we have shifted around since we have been here.

There is lots to write about over here but we can not do so as our mail is all censored while yours is not. They have a lot of German prisoners here in this camp, they keep them at work of some kind all the time, and they do not seem to want to leave either. I do not blame them for they have not got half a chance to win and no use of them a going back to be shot. I am looking for a letter from mother before long. I have not heard from the people since I left the states. I have a time over here trying to understand the people and know what it is to be the wop now.

I am studying French a little but do not know if I can ever learn to twist my tongue enough to say their words or not I can count their money fairly well now.

We have plenty of day light over here, it does not get dark until about 10 p.m. and day light about 4 a.m., so you see we do not have much use for lights here. The weather is about the same as there only the nights are a little cooler, the last day or so it has been a little cool and rainy. Well I must close now. With love to all. Write soon. Give them all my best. Corporal George A. Coyle, Battery B, 324th Regt. F. A. Heavy, American E. F., via New York.

Editor of The Advocate:—The most pleasing and delightful surprise in a long time was when I received your letter enclosing the beautiful medal and message of cheer I want to thank everyone for the interest taken in us boys and to assure you that I am sincerely appreciative. To say that I am pleased with the army life is putting it rather mildly. I am sorry, indeed, that I was not able to get in this game before. Although we are busy from the time we get up until close to bedtime I find it a healthy man making fascinating life. Our barracks is brand new fireproof building, with hot and cold shower-baths, and the best in modern convenience. Having 26 large triple six-foot windows we get plenty of fresh air—in short, the 180 who are here are housed in perfect comfort. Our mess is everything it should be, and then some, and is served in the regular cottage mess hall, which is some place. The fellows here are I believe about the nicest bunch I've ever met; all have more or less good education, and their accomplishments are worth noting. We have been here only three weeks and already have a brass band, string orchestra, and glee club of 60 voices, that really can sing. Our training consists of both military and vocational. I am taking the auto mechanics course for which I always held a fancy. The course is complete in eight weeks and everyone of us hopes that we may be sent "over there" as soon as possible after completing the course. The officers of this detachment are everything they should be and are well liked by all the men. Summing it all up this, the "first lap" on the road to Berlin, is satisfactory to every boy here. Thanking The Advocate and other friends for the medal and interest taken in us, I close, hoping that I may hear from all as often as possible, for a letter to a soldier gives him a delight not to be expressed. It helps to ease the rough spots that are bound to be found in the military game, and he realizes that the home-folks remember. Yours sincerely,

Private O. A. Costly,
O. N. I. Training Depot, Wilberforce, O.

A letter received by Mrs. Catherine Devlin, 40 North Morris street, from her son Arthur Devlin, a former clerk in the Newark postoffice:

"France, July 1, 10 A. M.

"Dear Mother—Your letter dated May 10, received two days ago, arrived here last night after traveling by truck for 50 miles; have established a postoffice and am ready to dispense stamps and other postal necessities to those who come daily. I had received word to report about July 1 in Paris, and leave this in care of the army employees, but as the orders to move on came, I had to come regardless. I was very glad for I was naturally anxious to go the limit and I have the distinction of being the only civilian so near the lines. After traveling with this outfit for weeks there is a sort of a brotherly feeling for the 1000 men whom I have lived with daily, and particularly when I know their time has come to relieve those that have been in the trenches.

"We had a very suspicious introduction here; hardly 200 yards from me fell an unexpected bomb that was shot either from the line or at a passing German plane. It is the nearest I have ever been to danger, and, of course, it was not a very comfortable feeling. I had to run quite a distance and climb in a window for safety. In a time like this I find I can run like the devil.

"We are located in an ancient chateau. Weiant's residence would make you think of it. It is situated on Horn's Hill, where the Everett summer home burned down.

It is a building of possibly 300 yards length and with low slanting roofs and gables which overlooks the mountains, which can be reached in a 10-minute walk. In the valley enclosed by the great stonewall are the peasants' cottages; the most of them deserted for all the world like the stories you have read about.

"The most beautiful perennial plants are blooming; neglected, to be sure, but there is a charm about the wildness of their beds that fittingly corresponds with the pastures of the surrounding country. The ride in the truck was more than I can describe. Fifty miles of mountain scenery completely bewilders one. The roads, great stone winding drives with pines on either side, are beautiful, if not practical. So near the mountains and the constantly falling rain with the bombarding makes the days miserable for walking, but there is usually some part of the 24 hours pleasant and I take advantage of it. It stays light here until 10 and 11 o'clock. It is not unusual for me to be walking in the country at that hour.

"The last two weeks were spent in — and — the land where the story of Joan-de-Arc was written. In one of the little churches where I went to mass, Sunday, she was (Continued on Page 9, Col. 1.)

A True Adam Design Bedroom Suite at.....$89.00 IN IVORY ENAMEL

So many different designs in bedroom furniture are called Adam designs when in reality they are not an Adam design at all or are merely adaptations of the work of those master craftsmen of old, that we wish to emphasize this as a true

"Adam" in every line of design and decoration. Made by one of the best known makers of bedroom furniture in America, this suite will give unusually long service. The bed is 54 inches in width and has metal side rails; the head board is 55 inches high. The Dresser top measures 21x42 inches and the bed mirror 24x30 inches. The Dressing Table top is 20x38 inches, with 16x22 inch center mirror and wing mirrors 8x22. This is a suite you can be proud of. May we show it to you?

Robert L. Adair

For Court of Appeals

I am a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Judge of the Court of Appeals, 5th District. Am 49 years of age, a graduate of Wooster College, have practiced law 25 years and had six years experience as Probate Judge. Four years ago I was a candidate for the nomination and received the second highest vote out of a field of four candidates. Wayne county has never had a Democratic member of this court or a Democratic nominee, although it has consistently given large Democratic majorities.

My competitor for the nomination is circulating literature in which he claims to be a candidate for a second term. He was appointed to fill a vacancy by Governor Harmon in January, 1911, and served until after the election in 1912, or nearly two years. He was elected for a six-year term in 1912, so he has had one term by appointment of nearly two years and a term by election of six years, or nearly eight years in all. Is it not more nearly correct to say that my competitor is a candidate for a third term?

Sincerely,

ROBERT L. ADAIR.

SOLDIERS' LETTERS

baptized, and in another just across from my last postoffice, she made her first communion. Throughout France I find altars and statues to her memory—one particularly, the first erected in 1442, is a handsome marble bisque, a stone that is quarried in the mines near here. I learned last week that the Catholic churches in France have been taken over by the government, but can be used by the people as long as they are places of worship. The priests are drafted and held for service until 44 years of age. While on the church-subject I want to add that one little chapel contained 12 real Metz windows. I do not believe the largest piece was over five inches square.

Last week I saw the first 'bird's nest'—the German-French orphan babes that are being cared for by charitable organizations. There is a pathetic expression on their faces that comes, I presume, with war-time babies, but strange to say I do not notice the illiteracy that I should imagine would follow. Some of them are five years old. Sorry to say I did not keep a diary, but do not think it is too late yet, for every day brings something new. The water here is abundant—cool mountain streams flowing everywhere. It must be a healthy climate for everyone—myself included—seem well. The weather here is very cool. Last night I had to sleep in the office—had on my woolen socks, shirt, inside and out; sweater, overcoat, steamer rug and army blanket, and was not uncomfortably warm. I find the morale of the army very good.

"Mother, I am feeling fine. I can only write occasionally for there really isn't much I can tell you. Soon I shall write you all about the customs. Love to all. Art."
"Arthur Devlin, United States Postal Service, France, via New York, American Expeditionary Forces."

Henry Fink in France.
Chief Mechanic Henry G. Fink, Battery D, 324th H. F. A., now in France, sends home a letter, dated July 14, saying in part:

"We have arrived safely on the other side. Nothing of any consequence marred our pleasant voyage, except that some of the boys were awfully seasick the first couple of days. The Tommies that I have met are a very nice bunch of boys, and are always glad to help us in any way possible. I always had Tommy Atkins pictured quite differently. Of course, they always carry a swag-gler stick when off duty. In England they have a woman's auxiliary corps, who train the same as men. As soon as their training is complete they go to France to drive trucks and do other work back of the frontlines (they are called 'Tommy Wacs,' for short).

"You see an awful lot of Belgium refugee children. They are distributed among the villages so the responsibility falls equally on all to take care of them. They are a pitiful lot to see. Their fathers are at the front fighting, or have been killed, their mothers are working in some munition factory. Our battery is billeted a short distance from here in a small village. We were the first American soldiers that were ever in the town, so we caused quite a little stir in this quaint French village. I am at this camp along with some others on detached service, going to school, taking a course of instruction on material. The chief mechanic from each battery was sent here for a five week's course. We have real nice barracks and I actually have a little steel cot with a mattress to sleep on. Every other door over here is a cafe. The French hardly ever drink any water, it is either cider or light wine. Our boys are not permitted to buy anything stronger than light wine. Most all of the barracks over here are built from building block or brick. Wood is so scarce that it is considered an offense to cut a tree down without planting another.

"Today is France's national holiday. This corresponds to our July Fourth. We are observing their holiday the same as they did ours. We were told last winter that we would not need much money in France, as an American dollar had twice the buying power. Someone made an awful mistake, for a dollar will only buy about fifty cents worth."

The following letter has been received by Mrs. Thos McDermott from her son, William, who is with the American army in France:

"Dear Mom—Just a line to let you know I arrived in France all safe and sound. I left the U. S. a few days after you and John were with me. We had a very good voyage across only we were some crowded on the boat, and the food was not as good as we got in camp. I wasn't seasick at all. Some of the fellows were pretty bad, but soon got over it. I am in a recruiting camp near the coast and I don't think I'll be here very long. I will probably be sent to another camp and assigned to a company. This is surely a pretty country. The houses are all stone and plaster and they say they are hundreds of years old. We marched through quite a large town on our way to camp and about all the kids in it were on hand to see us. We passed one bunch of them sitting on a stonewall singing 'Hail, Hail, the Gangs All Here.' That, I suppose, they had learned from the soldiers who have gone before us. They also know how to say 'hello!' and 'give me a cigaret!' Am writing this in the Y. M. C. A. It is the same as those at home and it is hard to realize that I am in France. There is also a canteen where we can buy tobacco and chocolate. French women also come into camp with stuff to sell and it is quite a stunt to buy something with American money and get your correct change in French, but I guess we'll learn after we have been here awhile. I suppose you have received the safe arrival card I mailed you by this time. How are all the folks and how does Burt like the service by this time? I haven't seen a man I know since I left Camp Sherman, but it doesn't take long to make new friends in the army. I wish pop could see the railroads over here. The cars are about as big as a small trolley car and the engines not much larger. Well, I think that will be all for this time. Will write more later and give you my address when I get settled some place. Am well and in good health, so don't worry any. Will write to John soon. Give my best to everyone. Goodbye, and don't worry. We'll have the Huns licked before long. Yours, Bill."

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsed coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsed coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

LICKING COUNTY HAS THE BEST ROADS OF ANY COUNTY IN THE STATE.

These roads have been completed and maintained under the direction of John C. Swartz who is the present County Surveyor and who is seeking re-nomination at the primary election on August 13th.

During his term of office Mr. Swartz has worked for results, and his success is known outside of this county.

At the coming election the voters of the county have a decision to make between efficiency and politics.

Mr. Swartz is the thirteenth surveyor in the history of the county to serve a full term; or, in other words, the Surveyors of Licking County have held office an average of nine and one-third years. One Surveyor holding office for sixteen years. This applies not only to this county, but in other counties of the state, Surveyors are running for their third and fourth terms.

The Surveyor's office is an office that should not be changed as long as a man is attending to business and getting results. It is an office that requires experience, and in this county the supervision of the spending of about $200,000.00 of the tax payers money each year. Would you, Mr. Voter, change men in your private business ever so often because a man had worked for you four, five or six years? The chances are that you would keep a man who gets results as long as he would stay. The lowest estimate that it is possible to make will show that it costs Licking County between twenty-five and fifty thousand dollars each time a Surveyor is changed. Under these conditions, don't you think it will be wise to keep Mr. Swartz in the Surveyor's office instead of discharging him simply because some people say "He has been there long enough." If he goes, some one else is going to get the benefit of the investment which you have in him at the present time.

At this time, three men are trying to do the work that seven did before the war, and if Mr. Swartz does not get to see you, you will know he is putting your business ahead of his own, and looking after your interests instead of electioneering. Therefore, VOTE FOR SWARTZ FOR SURVEYOR.

AH! DELICIOUS EPSOM SALTS

Old, nasty metallic taste is all gone now

Instead of asking for the common Epsom Salts, ask for Epsomade Salts hereafter. You will get a big package for only 15 cents. Epsomade Salts looks and acts exactly like Epsom Salts, because it is Epsom Salts combined with fruit derivatives thus making a sparkling, effervescent lemonade-like drink for the liver and bowels.

Take a tablespoonful of this delicious Salts in a glass of cold water when you feel bilious, sick, headachy or constipated and get the quick and splendid action of a dose of Epsom Salts without the horrible taste. Epsomade Salts will replace the old Epsom Salts, Rochelle Salts, Sodium Phosphate and Cathartic Pills in every home, say local druggists.

I am democratic candidate for the nomination for County Surveyor; I was born in Newark, Ohio, in 1885; received my early education in the public schools of Newark. After graduating from the Newark High School in 1904, I took the full four year scientific course at Denison University, graduating in 1908. Since that time I have been engaged in engineering work consisting of railroad location and construction, bridge, ditch, street paving, and pipe construction of various types.

I am seeking a first term AS SURVEYOR.

My past work in the office causes me to realize the importance of its duties, and I will give the people of Licking County an efficient and economical administration.

Respectfully,
Aug. 9-11 Clyde W. Irwin.

NOBLE WORK OF THE AMERICAN FUND FOR THE FRENCH WOUNDED

The American Fund for French Wounded, a branch of which has been doing women service in this city, and other parts of Licking county, is now called upon to put forth every effort to assist in the grand work which is being carried out and which is now more necessary than ever before.

Refugees are crowding into Paris, driven back by the invasion of the German armies. They are absolutely destitute, cold and hungry, without proper clothing. The children are crying and people die on the way. All must be cared for when they arrive at the railway station.

Where the American Fund for French Wounded begins the work of mercy. The money sent from America buys food for the refugees, clothing made in happy, peaceful American homes covers them. Our helpers are waiting with hearts full of pity and helpful hands to minister to their needs.

One day 600 refugees arrived, another day 500 babies from an evacuated institution.

Refugees are now distributed all over France. The French Government is very much opposed to their returning to the war zone at present. Almost all the improvements made there last year are being enjoyed by the Germans. The trees that were planted have been trampled down by their troops.

The wounded are also coming in great numbers, and the demand for hospital supplies—gauze, dressings, garments—comes from every corner of France. The Service de Santé telephones almost daily to our depot for supplies. We must be ready to help. Mrs. Lathrop called recently. She has a plan for emergency money. Nothing can exaggerate the present needs, but do not worry about us, for a splendid spirit prevails here.

A fact of paramount importance is the arrival of the American wounded in French hospitals, and we realize that our hour has come to aid our own men while aiding the French. In doing this we work in absolute harmony and accord with the American Red Cross.

Excepting the Red Cross we are the largest American organization aiding the hospitals, and are so well known that our agents are permitted to visit any French hospital where American soldiers may have been sent. We can assure the mothers of America that wherever their sons may be they will have the best possible care, and the personal ministrations of women speaking their own tongue.

That the French Service de Santé values our aid is shown by the following cable message recently received from Mrs. Lathrop:

"Paris, July 4th.
"We have been asked by the Minister of War of the Service de Santé to transmit to our committees at home this message to be published on the Fourth of July:

"Madame President:—I beg you to communicate to all your committees in the United States the expression of my profound gratitude to the more and more active and generous co-operation which the American Fund for French Wounded never fails to bring to the tasks of the military Service de Santé of France.

"You and your assistants were among the first Americans who, long before the official entrance of the United States into the war, came of their own accord to the aid of the actions the inalterable union of the two great Republics.

"Today, when the valiant soldiers of your country are fighting on the Western Front with the armies of France, the continuance and the broadening of your efforts reaching to the world that between our two nations there is more than an alliance—that they are united by a friendship which is only strengthened by hours of difficulty, and which tomorrow, in the joy of final victory, will become even more fraternal."

(Signed) "RAYET."

"Lige" Bryan for Sheriff

Democratic Candidate for Sheriff

The voters of Licking county are fortunate in securing as a candidate for sheriff, Elijah (Lige) A. Bryan. He was born 36 years ago on a farm, east of Newark, where he was reared and where he received his common and high school education, which afterwards was supplemented by a business course in Meredith Business College of Zanesville, O. Mr. Bryan is now married; has two children, and resides at 33 Union street, Newark, O., and for the past twelve years has been employed by the Ohio Electric Railway company, and during that time has rendered valuable service to the company and has made hundreds of friends.

A county officer should be a man who knows how to deal with the public, one who is courteous and accommodating, yet is not afraid to do his duty. Mr. Bryan is now married; his duties with the Ohio Electric Railway company for the past twelve years has been constantly in touch with the public and his experience and courteous treatment of the people in itself qualifies and recommends him for the office he seeks. His many friends recognize him as being the man for the place and will be pleased to have the opportunity of supporting him at the nomination on August 13, 1918, and predict his nomination and election to the office of sheriff of Licking county.

W. A. FLEMING DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE FOR RECORDER

SECOND TERM

To the Democratic Voters of Licking County

On the 20th day of last November I was appointed County Recorder to fill the vacancy caused by the death of O. C. Martin. This I regard as my first term of office.

Now, since it is the time-honored custom of the Democratic party to give the nomination for a second term, I stand as a candidate at the August Primaries. In offering myself for this second term I wish to make this statement: I have never held a county office except the one I am now serving. This second term is all I shall ever seek, and if nominated and elected, I will certainly be very grateful to the people of Licking County.

Respectfully,
8-8-21 W. A. FLEMING.

PLAN YOUR FALL BUYING NOW

It's the time to start. We have been obliged for the past 6 months to take in Fall lines in order to have the things you will want this fall and winter on account of the increased governmental wants, the power of factories to reproduce many lines has been curtailed—all lines of industries are limiting their output and this applies to a very extreme extent to the Dry Goods lines—Look over your wants and if you find you will be wanting Blankets, Underwear, Heavy Outings or Hosiery you had better begin Saturday. The August Sale has the most substantial lines of Hosiery for ladies and boys and girls at prices we will be unable to quote you after these early shipments are sold.

Did You Sign the W.S.S. Pledge?

Five hundred members of the Licking County War Work organization have been engaged in a house to house canvass for the sale of War Savings Stamps this week. The goal was the sale of $540,000 worth of W. S. S. to complete Licking County's quota of $1,236,180. Because of the excessive heat followed by rain, it is altogether probable that many people have not been solicited. In many places homes were closed, in others owing to the weather conditions a satisfactory interview was impossible. While the four day campaign closes today, the sale of War Savings Stamps continues. Those who signed cards agreeing to buy stamps are urged to fulfill their pledges promptly. Those who were not solicited are asked to obtain a pledge card from the postoffice or bank. Everybody is urged to pledge to buy and also to purchase War Savings Stamps.

LETTER FROM BOYS IN CAMP AT SYRACUSE

The following letter has been received by the local draft board from the limited service men who were recently sent to Syracuse, N. Y.:

"Mr. Walter Symons:
"Dear Sir—Just a few lines from the Newark bunch in camp at Syracuse, N. Y., recruiting camp.

"We, the undersigned Newark boys who left on Friday, the second, arrived in camp Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, tired but a happy bunch. And are all at home in tents we had to set up after our arrival.

"This camp is located about 10 miles from the center of the city on a piece of rolling ground, and when it is finished will be a nice place. We all desire, through you and both Newark papers, to extend our sincere thanks to the Newark Advocate for the medals they gave us; also, Mrs. E. E. Moore and other Red Cross women, for the lunch they served us on leaving, as it sure came in handy about 6 p. m.

"In closing, we will say for the folks at home, to do their part and we sure will do ours. We are all assigned to Co. 36, 1st battalion, and have a pretty nice bunch of officers.

"Respectfully yours,

"Harry Bragg.

"William Coyne.

"William W. McMahon.

"Harry Her.

"William N. McMurtry.

"Charles E. Trace.

"Jesse S. Trace.

"P. S.—We must not forget to mention the Red Cross in Buffalo, who met us and gave us cigarettes, postcards and stamps, and refused to accept any money for them."

was no reply to the French artillery preparation which lasted 45 minutes.

German soldiers were captured while harvesting grain in the fields so complete was the surprise. More than 1000 were carried by assault. The difficulties of crossing the Ayr were overcome rapidly, the French using hastily constructed footbridges. After taking Braches, the French captured La Neuville and the series of hills dominating the plain beyond.

TANKS DID MOST EFFECTIVE WORK.

British Headquarters in France, Thursday, Aug. 7. (Reuters). The tanks did very well today. Under cover of night a number of them were brought across the Luce brook, where they rendered invaluable assistance in what might have proved an awkward situation owing to the nature of the ground. They drove the enemy from many trench positions and machine gun positions.

The German machine gun fire was less heavy than expected, possibly owing to the mist, but the tanks seem to have dealt with the machine posts with ruthless thoroughness.

WILL COMMAND THE JAPANESE SECTION

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 9. (Russia).—General Kikizo Otani, one of Japan's most distinguished soldiers has been chosen to command the Japanese section and will be the ranking officer of the American and allied expedition in Siberia.

LENINE DECLARES THAT WAR EXISTS WITH THE ALLIES

(Associated Press Telegram)
Washington, Aug. 9.—American Consul Poole, Moscow has informed the state department that Lenin, the Bolshevik premier, recently declared before a gathering of soviets in Moscow that a state of war existed between the Russian government and the entente allies.

In response to questions from the allied consuls, Tchitcherin, commissioner of foreign affairs, said the premier's statement need not be considered a declaration of war but that it rather was a declaration of defense on the part of Russia similar to the situation that existed at one time with Germany.

The consul's report, received by cable today gave the state department its first official information confirming the reports that the Bolsheviks were formally characterizing as an act of war the operations of allied forces on the Murmansk coast. The attitude of Lenin may tend to clarify the situation and strengthen the understanding between the allies and the new Russian government of the north.

Tchitcherin's explanation was made public, the consul said, at the request of the allied consuls. Mr. Poole also reported that in spite of denials of the authorities the Bolsheviks were throwing obstacles in the way of the departure from Russia of British and French military representatives.

From Archangel today the state department received word that the Bolsheviks upon hearing of the landing of allied troops at Onega had asked for an explanation.

Allied aviators dropped propaganda in the city of Archangel whereupon the Bolsheviks evacuated the town before the allied troops marched in.

The British, French and United States consuls were arrested on August 8 by a detachment of Caucasian cavalry "for their protection" but as previously reported were released upon the appearance of the allied soldiers.

The reception to the allied troops by the native population today's message said, was cordial that revolutionists fled the city and have caused no further trouble. A new "revolution" proclamation by the Caucasian soldiers after their flight is not taken seriously.

The new government of the north at Archangel is rapidly organizing its different departments. Information reaching the state department shows that order has been issued: Appointing a commander in chief of the Russian forces, military and naval; abolishing all organs of the so-called soviet government and ordering the arrest of all soviet commissaire officials; appointing government commissaries of three for provinces and counties; re-establishing municipal governments and zemstvos; empowering local self-government organs to control food supply, maintaining so far as possible existing apparatus but cleaning out the Bolshevik elements; re-establishing judicial organizations; re-establishing free existence and activity of co-operative associations, labor unions and organizations to further the prosecution of war, and nationalizing transport, financial and industrial institutions.

A FREE LECTURE WITH Y. M. C. A. PICTURES

To meet the demands of the public for an intimate demonstration of its work among the soldier boys in the camps of this country and France, the Y. M. C. A. has prepared an illustrated lecture on the work of the army Y. M. C. A. from the time of the Mexican border mobilization to the arrival in France of General Pershing's Rainbow division, and many subsequent activities. Social, recreational, educational and religious activities among the soldiers are shown in their true relations to camp life. Leisure moments of both soldier and sailor in the famous Eagle hut in London also are portrayed by these slides.

Front line trench dugouts of the Red Triangle and huts that have been blown to pieces by German shells form a chapter of intense interest for all who have heard this lecture. It is stated. It provides nearly an hour of patriotic appeal.

This illustrated lecture will be given at the East Main Street M. E. church tonight at 8 o'clock under the auspices of "Cooper's Volunteers Sunday School class. This class has nineteen of its members in the service and is, therefore, much interested in what the Y. M. C. A. is doing.

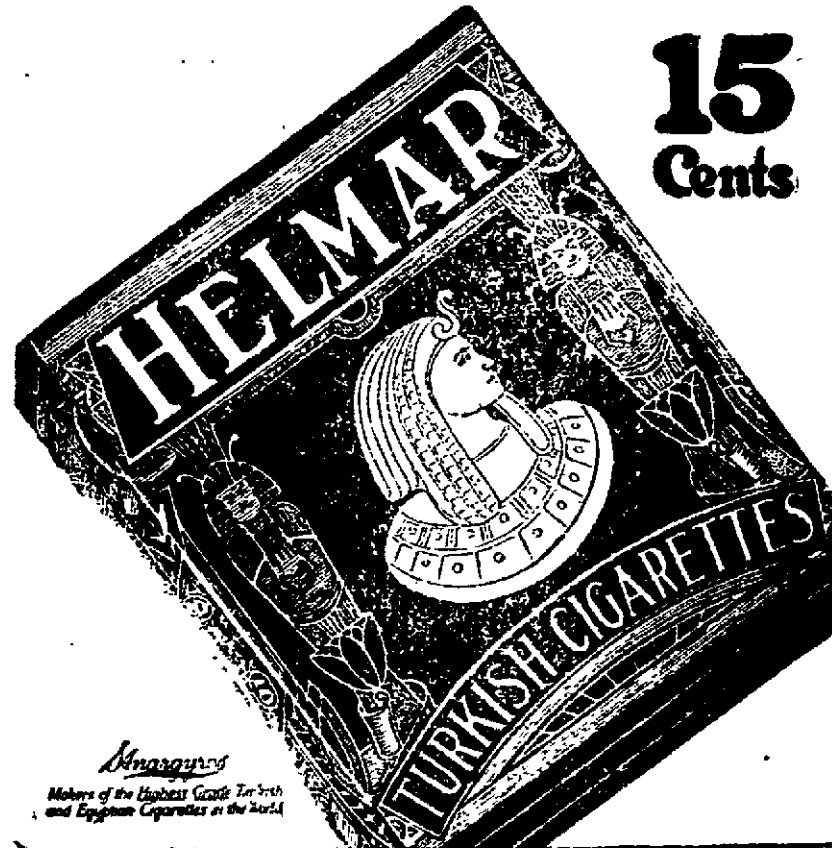

This lecture is free and no collection will be taken.

"A Fight for Millions."
Steele's "A Fight for Millions," fashioned into a bow, save the lives of the hero and the heroine in the second chapter of "A Fight for Millions." The hero, William L. Duncan, and the heroine, Edith Johnson, are trapped apparently with no possible avenue of escape on a ledge midway a high cliff when the battle front from the hero's side is burned by flames from their camp fire. Arrows bearing notes telling of their peril are sent over the gorge, above high trees and into a trail beyond and the last of these is seen by Sergeant Smith, a Royal Mounted Police, who speedily effects their rescue. The scene is thrilling in the extreme and a splendid piece of photography having been taken on the mountains north of Truckee, California.

"The Widow's Might."
The producers of Paramount pictures are complying with Food Administration requests to save food in the picture and even at the sacrifice of time have without exception observed the rule of saving food in the picture. The notable exception occurs in "The Widow's Might," a new Paramount picture starring Julian Eltinge. In this picture an important scene occurs around a dinner table while the characters are eating. What to do was a problem, for the scene was too important to omit. Director William C. DeMille, however, found a pleasant and profitable way out of the difficulty. This was to have the scene taken at just about dinner time in the Maryland Hotel at Pasadena where the company was staying, and allow the entire company to enjoy the meal with not a camera man stored up the scene in his "little old box."

"My Four Years in Germany."
One of the most important and interesting productions ever produced in motion pictures is the dramatic production filmed from Ambassador James W. Gerard's book, "My Four Years in Germany." Throughout the entire production of the film Mr. Gerard was in close touch with the War Department and the production and the scenes and incidents have been staged with the most painstaking care in every detail. Nothing will so clarify in the minds of the public the reasons why America is now at war with the autocratic dictator of Europe, as this picture. The results of this German inability to really understand America is clearly shown in the incidents which took place in Germany before the war, which our Ambassador, James W. Gerard, was involved. The whole history of German intrigue, diplomacy and double dealing is exposed in the intensely interesting and dramatic picture of Mr. Gerard's book, which will be shown at the Auditorium next week.

Billie Burke.
Winsome Billie Burke is to appear at the Auditorium theatre on Sunday in her latest Paramount picture, "Eve's Daughter." This is a story of the life of Margaret Turnbull of Alaska, Ramsey's play of that name which was produced on Broadway this year, with Grace George as the star. The cast includes Thomas Meighan, who, it will be remembered, appeared with Miss Burke in "The Land of the Living," and William Riley Hatch, Florence Flynn, Lionel Atwill, Mary Navaro and others. The story deals with the education of a girl from the restraints of a strict father and the rather disastrous results which follow. A happy ending, however, a comedy, also the Weekly News will be added features.

AFHAMBRA.
Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew. "Pay Day," the latest Metro special screen novelty, which comes to the Alhambra theatre on Friday and Saturday, gives ample proof that Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew, the stars of the production, are capable of acting tragic dramatic roles as well as those possessing comedy elements. Since the great success of the one-reel fun-fests, which are shown as Metro-Drew comedies, the Drews have become identified with comedies. The combination of Mr. and Mrs. Drew in comedies has become a household word. The Drew comedies appeal to people who live a normal wholesome home life, their policy being to present nothing so extravagant that it might not happen in a normal family. Consequently, the one-act comedies of domestic life have struck a responsive chord. One day while debating over scenarios, the Drews discussed the fact that the public had grown to believe that they were only playing in comedies. There and then they decided to prove to all their audiences that they could play dramatic parts and present a story of feature length, as well as comedies. In the picture the Metro stars are shown discussing the problem in their own office and then over the telephone with President Theodore of Metro. Then they prove their dramatic ability with great success.

Sunday.
The familiar press agent story of the versatile feminine star who rides, plays golf, cooks, dances and swims with consummate skill makes no infrequently truthful press department of Goldwyn Pictures a little bit different about telling people who might never believe it that Mae Marsh is an honest-to-goodness sculptor. But she is and there seems no getting around making the fact public. Goldwyn has known since Miss Marsh came under its wing as a star that she possessed this unusual talent, but it was with an interest in unimpaired skepticism that persons in the New York offices of the company regarded a photograph sent from the studios showing the little star at work on a life-size clay statue, unmistakably of herself. Inquiry revealed the astonishing fact that Miss Marsh had modeled the statue herself—every bit of it from head to toe—for one of the important scenes in "The Beloved Traitor," her newest Goldwyn picture. And she did it because of her feeling in playing the role of a sculptor, hadn't ploughed knowledge of the art to have plastered the statue foundation on the dummy frame of the statue.

The statue was of Miss Marsh's own face and figure because the film scenario demands that it be just that. The hero, a poor Maine fisherman, has an undeveloped talent for sculpture which he exercises by making sand heads of the heroine, Miss Marsh.

LYRIC.
For the first time in this city for one day only, Official Italian War Pictures in the new battle fronts from Piave to Brenta, showing many of the great battles that have been fought there. This is the picture that is now running at the Port-second Street Theatre in New York City and has been there for the past three months. It is in three reels and shows some of the mightiest blows struck by the Italian army and the movement of their troops. Now if you want to see a real war picture be sure and see this one at the Lyric today.

The Case of Prof. W. H. Johnson and Frank B. Willis and Related Incidents

PROF. W. H. JOHNSON IS THE HEAD OF THE DEPARTMENT OF LATIN OF DENISON UNIVERSITY, GRANVILLE, OHIO—A WRITER OF NOTE, AN EDUCATOR OF HIGH STANDING. HE IS A WELL-KNOWN DRY ADVOCATE AND VOTED FOR FRANK B. WILLIS IN 1914.

FRANK B. WILLIS IS WELL-KNOWN AS THE FORMER GOVERNOR OF OHIO.

REPUBLICAN COMMITTEEMAN WILLIAM CAMERON BEER REPRESENTS WILLIS' ADA DISTRICT ON THE STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEE.

MR. FRANK M. HOUSTON IS ASSISTANT CHIEF TRAIN DISPATCHER OF THE T. & O. C. AT BUCYRUS, OHIO.

THE FACTS HERE SET FORTH ARE OF RECORD, HAVE BEEN PUBLISHED AND ARE NOT DISPUTED.

BY THE PATRIOTIC UNION.

In 1915, shortly after the Lusitania was sunk, in response to a telegram from the New York Times, sent to the different governors of the United States, Gov. Frank B. Willis wired that he was opposed to the shipment of munitions to Belgium, France and England and favored a strict embargo.

Professor Johnson wrote a respectful letter to Governor Willis, calling his attention to the fact that to deny lawful shipment to the allies in their extremity would result in the triumph of Germany. To this letter, Governor Willis replied, chiding Professor Johnson and asserting that it was a matter of policy on which side we would fight in case we became involved in the war; that is, he thought it possible that the United States might take the side of Germany and make war on Belgium, France and England. There was an interchange of six letters at this time—1915.

In 1918, when Mr. Willis became a candidate for governor, Professor Johnson sent letters to the leading papers of the state, calling attention to the fact that Mr. Willis had favored the German cause in 1915, and that, on patriotic grounds, he should not be nominated or elected governor of Ohio. To this Mr. Willis published a reply in which he claimed that Professor Johnson and his charges were inspired by the whisky interests, and that if Professor Johnson did not give out the correspondence, he would.

The professor is one of the most ardent of long-standing in Ohio. As he, in the freedom of friendly writing, had kept no copies, he asked Mr. Willis to give the correspondence to the public, which the latter did, claiming it was the full correspondence, but omitted a closing letter in which Mr. Willis' attitude was characterized as un-American and unpatriotic. The letters as published made it plain that Professor Johnson had spoken words of truth, as in every line Mr. Willis defended his course of denying aid to Belgium, France and England. Professor Johnson summed up Mr. Willis' attitude by saying that he was "an aspiring politician bent in his perception of the direction of the wind."

country's service and is prepared to lay down his life, if need be, for liberty and humanity; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we hereby voice our vigorous protest at the unwarranted attacks upon our beloved fellow-townsmen, Professor Johnson and

That we express our utmost sorrow and resentment, mingled with a just anger, for the insults to, and for the slurs cast upon, the brave young soldier born and reared in our midst, Arthur L. Johnson, who has gone from his college and his home to fight the common enemy of civilization, and

That we make known far and wide our indignation at the dishonor thus heaped upon the uniform and flag of this our greatest nation on earth, and

That, in view of the indignities here recited, we declare our protest against the further honoring with public responsibilities in any form, of Frank B. Willis, while the sons of Ohio are shedding their life-blood on the fields of France.

Following the publication of the Willis-Johnson correspondence, Republican State Committeeman William Cameron Beer, representing Mr. Willis' ADA district, made a statement that Mr. Willis in 1917, nine months after war was declared by the United States, expressed even stronger sentiments. Committeeman Beer is a leading Bucyrus attorney, a member of the draft board, a leading Republican of Crawford county and in the convention of 1914 represented Mr. Willis on the resolutions committee, fighting for the plank desired by that candidate. His statement follows:

"Last winter, meeting former Governor Willis in Bucyrus, I accompanied him to the train. On the way I called his attention to the fact that Roosevelt, Taft, Hughes, Harding, Root and other leading Republicans had come out strongly in support of President Wilson's mission to congress when war was declared, and remarked that he had not."

"I know I haven't and I am not going to," was his staggering rejoinder.

"Upon reaching home I said to a member of my family: 'I am off of Willis. He is playing the other side!'"

Chairman Beer said that he was convinced that Mr. Willis' attitude was a deliberate bid for the wet as well as the disloyal vote.

Mr. Frank M. Houston, assistant chief train dispatcher of the T. & O. C. R. R. at Bucyrus, Ohio, makes the following affidavit:

"THEY ARE MAKING AMERICAN BELTS, FILLED WITH AMERICAN CARTRIDGES TO SHOOT YOUR GERMAN FRIENDS OVER THERE."

Affiant further says that the people living in the vicinity of Dayton and in that city are largely of German birth or descent. (Signed) Frank H. Houston, sworn to before me on the 2nd day of August, 1918, at Bucyrus, Ohio. Notary Public in and for Crawford County, Ohio.

Corroborating Mr. Houston's sworn statement, an affidavit has also been made by James Decker, a lifelong farmer and large land owner of Crawford county, as follows:

THE STATE OF OHIO, CRAWFORD COUNTY, OHIO.
James Decker, being first duly sworn, deposes that he is a resident of Whitestone town, Crawford county, Ohio, that he was present at the meeting referred to in the affidavit of Mr. Willis, and that he saw and heard Mr. Willis in the course of the speech in which the present gathering of people was addressed, the subject of arms and war munitions to the allies, and in a claim he made the following remarks:

"They are making American belts, filled with American cartridges, to shoot your German friends over there."

Affiant further says that the people of Gallen, Ohio, who are largely of German birth or descent, are also present at the meeting referred to in the affidavit of Mr. Willis, and that he saw and heard Mr. Willis in the course of the speech in which the present gathering of people was addressed, the subject of arms and war munitions to the allies, and in a claim he made the following remarks:

"They are shooting down 'over there' our boys who are carrying the belts and cartridges referred to."

COMMENTS.
Theodore Roosevelt (Saratoga Speech):
"We should treat as disloyal anyone attempting to carry water on both shoulders to try to conciliate any American vote here at home."

Wm. H. Taft (Cincinnati Speech):
"Show me a man who favored an embargo on munitions, and I will show you a whispering traitor."

CONCLUSIONS.
No dry principle is involved. Mr. Willis at the present time has a deal on with certain wet politicians, as he has had, off and on, throughout his eighteen years of office-seeking.

Although all the above facts have been repeatedly published, Mr. Willis has not denied them, nor up to the present time repudiated his attitude of 1915-1917. He hopes to profit politically from his admitted pro-Hun attitude while appealing for the loyal good and dry vote. He thinks YOU will not find him out.

OHIO STILL LEADS.

Ohio put enough cash in the treasury at Washington in the sale of War Savings Stamps during July to build eighteen big transports to carry the "dough boys" and their supplies across the seas. Cash sales amounted to $16,146,233.12 or more than twice the monthly quota. Ohio again leads all states in cash sales for the month and the people of the Buckeye State are showing an over increasing appreciation of this worlds best investment, according to the Ohio War Savings Committee.
Licking county's four day War Savings Stamp drive conducted by the Licking County War Work organization ends tonight. The extremely hot weather and two days of rain have combined to make the work very difficult. Notwithstanding the unfavorable weather conditions great progress has been made and many new stamp buyers have been enrolled. The cash stamp sales are close to the $800,000 mark in Licking county. The quota assigned to the county is $1,236,180. Licking county has not failed in any of its war activities to date and it must not fail in the War Savings drive.

SPIRIT OF OUR SOLDIERS.

Now that the American soldiers have taken a conspicuous part in the great allied counter-attack on the Marne, we can begin to form some opinion as to how they show up as compared with other soldiers.
Whatever the American soldiers take, they hang onto. Once they get landed in a trench it is theirs for keeps. Other armies are constantly making gains, then losing those gains under pressure.
There is a will-to-conquer about the American that makes him feel it a point of honor to relinquish nothing. If he is counter-attacked by double his numbers, he may suffer heavily. But he makes the foe pay such an awful price that the Hun is willing to adjourn indefinitely the dispute for that particular position.
It was said of the Canadians in the early stages of the war that they were too brave; that they exposed themselves to peril to an extent greater than is wise under good strategy. The same criticism will perhaps be made of our boys. They may need some wise advice from veteran officers who have learned by experience that many successes cost too dear in lives.
But the splendid initiative and the dauntless resolution of the American boys is showing itself already and will be more and more a factor. Our allies, gritty fighters as they are, have sometimes quick-nessed great victories by lack of quick ability to follow up a success. The results obtained by the American troops in the Marne fighting show that they will not fail here. There will be no waiting around for perfect preparation while the foe also gains an equal time to perfect his defence. It is already evident that these boys, who scarcely yet are to be considered fully trained soldiers, are going to play the game in a quick, heady, resolute way superior to anything yet seen.

RESULTS OF THE DRIVE.

On July 15 once more the Hun raised his beastly head, and on a battlefield of sixty miles of front he drove ahead with all the power of his belated ingenuity, against the forces of the Christian and civil world. The Hun had on two occasions succeeded so well with these massed attacks, that this fifth drive was viewed by all the allied peoples with many fears.

On July 18, for the first time in more than six weary months, the allied armies undertook an attack on a considerable scale.
What was the results? An advance of about 20 miles in some directions gained by the American and French troops. And this is notable not so much for what was accomplished. The square miles of territory liberated are not yet more than half of what was captured by the Boche in his drive of May 27 south of the Aisne. But the notable thing is that it was an impromptu affair, gotten up without the vast engineering or artillery preparation and gas shell attacks by which the Germans have initiated their vast drives, and submerged sections of the allied line.

Meanwhile we know that in our country and in France we are preparing a vast mechanism of war, of which the Boche today has but had a slight foretaste. We are preparing our great machinery of chemical warfare, our fleet of airplanes, our array of heavy and light guns, and last but not least, many thousands of armed tanks.

If in an impromptu attack without elaborate preparation, with our equipment far from ready, our troops can gain 20 miles; what will they gain next spring when this vast engineering of war is ready for the real thing?

Answer that, Mr. Hun, you who keep lying to your people about the Americans never being able to get over in large numbers. You can stick your head in the sand for a few months yet, but by next April, get ready to hear something drier.

The Germans rejoice in their 400,000 young men soldiers that come of fighting age every year, but they don't say much about the 4,000,000 soldiers that get a year older and more tired.

If the newspapers were run on the ideas of all the people that try to keep news items out of them, they would be made up wholly of articles that no one wanted to read.

The German Kaiser and his six sons are being greatly praised by the Germans for their heroism, as they have been up to within 50 miles of the battle front.

The people who take advantage of bargain sales in this time of year are not apt to be heard complaining of high prices the beginning of next season.

Even if an indolent gardner has not raised much, he may have fed the bugs that otherwise would have feasted on more carefully tended crops.

The food speculators do well to speculate on how long they can keep out of jail.

SOCIALISTS IN RUSSIA.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
Socialists in many of the warring countries have so wrought that socialism has come to mean disloyalty, knavery or cowardice. In Germany the Socialists are faithful servants of Kaiserism. In Italy and in France Socialist elements have been largely responsible for the "defeatist" propaganda. In the United States the Socialist party stands definitely committed to a program which no American can indorse.
All these Socialists seem to believe that submission to kaiserism is preferable to fighting against the power of autocratic imperialism. In Russia it is different. The Socialists of Russia, many of them of the most radical tendencies, have been a practical demonstration of the working of kaiserism. There are, probably, no more relentless foes of Germany than these same Russian Socialists, and their hatred of Germany intelligently includes Germany's Russian agents, the Bolshevik anarchists.
Kerensky was the leader of the Russian Socialists before the Bolshevik-German alliance reduced Russia to impotence. Even in Kerensky's time the Socialists of Russia saw that the only hope of national salvation was in continual resistance to the Germans. Since the end of the Socialist regime the frightful misrule of the Bolsheviks, the partition of Russia by the German conquerors, and the heartless exploitation of the Russian peoples have left no room for doubt as to the malignity of both the Germans and the Bolshevik leaders. Today the Russian Socialists are united in demanding the expulsion of the Germans, the crushing of Bolshevism, and active military co-operation with the anti-German allies.

It is noticeable that in only one other country where the Socialists were a powerful political factor before the war is there strong Socialist support of the war against Germany. This country is Belgium, which, like Russia, has had direct experience of German methods and has lived under the blight of German rule. The leading Belgian Socialist, Van de Velde, is the foremost anti-German spokesman of Belgium, and Belgian Socialists are a unit in their opposition to any compromise with Germany.

The patriotism of the Socialists of Russia and Belgium will not atone for the cowardice and disloyalty of the Socialists of Germany, Italy and the United States, but it may be taken as an indication that socialism thrives in proportion to the distance of the Socialists from the actual workings of Prussian culture in non-German lands.

DEVELOPING NATION'S WATERWAYS.

(Binghamton Press.)
Thrift will win the war. But thrift is coming to mean something greater than individual saving. The nation itself is looking over its internal arrangements and seeking to find new ways of economy and cheaper and more efficient ways of using its tremendous resources.
One of the great problems today is the question of transportation. After the government had taken over the management of the railroad systems it was seen that the country's waterways must also be included among the agencies for moving the tremendous bulk of the country's freight.

The large canal system was promptly taken in hand by the director general of railroads, and already a fleet of government vessels is operating in this great waterway.

But the government plans to go farther. The Mississippi river and other rivers are to be utilized. Before the dawn of our present railway development, the Father of Waters was the great artery of trade for the region through which it flows. With the coming of rail traffic, the Mississippi lost its importance.

One of the results of this is that the river today lacks freight terminals. That is one of the first conditions to be met in making use of this great waterway.

Mr. McAdoo has appointed a federal manager of inland waterways. And among his other duties will be the task of restoring traffic to the Mississippi.

Operating in connection with the railroads under a single control, such an official may accomplish more in a year's time than would have been possible in a decade under a system that made river transportation a rival of the railroads.

Important results are anticipated from this renewed effort to make use of the river and of the canal systems already completed. And the results are expected to affect transportation problems for years to come.

For, when the war ends, it is probable the government will have perfected a system that will combine rail and water routes, furnish for many parts of the country, a cheaper and more efficient means of transportation than any hitherto known.

THE PRICE OF VICTORY.

(Cleveland Plain Dealer.)
No great victory in the greatest of wars can be won without heavy losses. In comparison with the losses of the Germans in the retreat from the Marne, the losses of the victorious allies are small. Yet in actual figures they must be large. French soldiers comprised 70 per cent of Foch's army. French losses will comprise 70 per cent, more or less, of the total losses. The remaining 30 per cent will be divided among the Americans, Italians and British.
Although America's losses will be small in comparison to the total casualties it is certain that grief and anxiety will be brought to many American homes. Between the Marne and Oureq, between the Oureq and the Vesle, many American soldiers have given their lives for the cause of liberty and civilization. Many other Americans are in hospitals, some of them fighting for life, others with wounds from which they will recover but which will leave them incapacitated for further fighting. A conscientious effort is being made to hasten to completion of the casualty lists. The names will be forwarded by cable at the earliest possible moment.

Already the war has brought its foretaste of death and suffering to America. Within the next few days it is likely that America will have a clearer realization of what war means, and this realization will strengthen American's determination to win, and to bring peace by the exertion of every ounce of American energy. For four years France and England, for three years Italy, have been paying the price of victory. America, only beginning to pay, will be no less courageous than her heroic allies.

"In that case," says Doc. "I'd better hurry as that is a vurry dangerous place for a man to be shot in," he says.

A Tale of a Shirt.
The weather we have been having of late has been especially hard on those people who have thoughtlessly got themselves a trifle too heavily upholstered and the other night, just as the doctor was ready to retire, the thought of the old swimming hole suddenly rippled through his consciousness with an irresistible lure. "The place will be deserted at this hour," he reasoned. "The moon is too much of a lady to look, and the babbling waters of the North Fork can't speak English"—such is the sophistry of the human mind. "Come," said he to the wife of his bosom, "we'll slip out and get into the machine and run out and have a dip." Just as he was emerging from his cool and delightful swim he became uncomfortably conscious of an audience. Two other machines filled with fair ladies and brave men had driven up and held him mercilessly in the spotlight. While not physically adapted for foot racing, he made the distance to his machine in record time, every step of the way being cheered by plaudits none the less hearty because the whole affair was so impromptu. And now his wife says she hopes he will either get a bathing suit or give some heed to her suggestions concerning pajamas, as they at least have some small degree of dignity.

PHYSICIAN TELLS HOW NUXATED IRON HELPS TO MAKE STRONG, KEEN, RED-BLOODED AMERICANS.

MEN AND WOMEN WHO WIN IN EVERY WALK OF LIFE.

Practical Advice On What To Do To Build Up Your Strength, Power and Endurance And Increase The Red Blood Corpuscles.
A recent blood test shows that a tremendously large number of people who are weak and ill lack iron in their blood and that they are ill for no other reason than a lack of iron. Says Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Out-door Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, "It is through iron in the red coloring matter of the blood that life-sustaining oxygen enters the body, and enables the blood to change food into living tissue, muscle and brain. Lack of sufficient iron in the blood has ruined many a man's nerves and utterly robbed him of that virile force and stamina which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life."

"Therefore I strongly advise those who feel the need of a strength and blood builder to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to this trouble, then purchase only Nuxated Iron in its original packages and see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken other iron products and failed to get results, remember that such preparations are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron, which has been used and strongly endorsed by many physicians formerly connected with well-known hospitals, the Hon. Leslie M. Shaw, former President of the Cabinet Official; former United States Senator Charles A. Tamm, former member of Congress, distinguished United States Army General (retired); Judge Atkinson of the United States Court of Claims at Washington and others."

No matter what other tonics or iron remedies you have used without success—if you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work or how far you can walk without becoming tired; next take two five-grain tablets of Nuxated Iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see how much you have gained. Nuxated Iron will increase the strength, power and endurance of delicate, nervous, run-down people in two weeks' time in many instances.

Manufacturers' Note: Nuxated Iron, which is prescribed and recommended by physicians and which is now being used by over three million people annually, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated, does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. Nuxated Iron is sold in this city by Wm. A. Egan, Evans' Cut Rate Store, The Mykrantz Pharmacy, and other druggists.

of the 15th century? He revealed their location to the Portuguese who appropriated them. The Portuguese colonists called the whole group of nine islands Azores, from azor, a hawk. That the Azores were visited by the Carthaginians is proved by the Phoenician coins found on Corvo.

ITALY MEANS IT.

(New York Times.)
Another blow to the shaken structure of the dual monarchy, another reinforcement to solidarity among the allies and to the friends of the freedom of peoples, is contained in the flat assurance given to the Paris correspondent of the Times by Prof. Nitti, the Italian minister of finance, that there was no conflicts of aspirations between Italy and the Slav peoples of Austria-Hungary, and that the Yugoslav question would be solved without difficulty. "Premier Orlando's statements on this point," says Prof. Nitti, "leave no room for doubt or misunderstanding." Italy, the land of the oldest and noblest civilization, the home of democracy and freedom, will certainly not be the country to create fresh obstacles for nationalities which are now suffering for liberty or independence.

It is much better to make hay while the sun shines than to let the grass grow under your feet.

Foch—Master Strategist Blasts German Hopes

German strategy, like the Marne salient, presents a diminished front as the result of Foch's July counter-offensive, brilliantly aided by General Haig, and our own General Pershing with his fighting Americans. Even the Frankfurter Zeitung admits that "Foch's attack threatens the whole of Hindenburg's plans," and this admission is interpreted by the Philadelphia North American to mean "that the most ambitious of Germany's 1918 offensives has collapsed, and that the invaders, weakened in fighting strength, in morale, and in prestige, must laboriously build up the structure of a new campaign." And, as further foreshadowing Germany's doom, a correspondent of the Amsterdam Handelsblatt says, "from America issues a force against which no European nation can stand. It is a gigantic force which is developing calmly and scientifically. The German people have not seen what I have seen."

To gain a succinct and accurate knowledge of the great victory of the Allies in the Marne salient, its initiative, its progress, and what it augurs for the future, you should read the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for August 10th. It is accompanied by a full-page map which clearly visualizes the present battle line, and the towns, villages, rivers, woods, etc., through which the Allied forces have fought during the past thirty days.
